Dear Family and Friends,

I am proud to announce that I recently completed state requirements for my real estate salesperson license. Although I am not joining a real estate company at this time, I have joined NRS Referral Services. NRS is a wonderful service which enables me to provide you with recommendations of highly experienced and caring full time Realtors.

Navigating the real estate market is complex, especially in today's economy. I want you to be completely confident in the Realtor you are working with. Real estate investment decisions are far too important to you and your family to choose an unknown agent.

Give me a call at any time. Whether it's across town or across country, I can quickly connect you with an experienced Realtor we can both trust to provide you with the outstanding service you deserve.

I look forward to talking with you soon.

Regards,
